

2025 Year End Review

This time of year always encourages the San Diego Ag in the Classroom Board to reflect on the many accomplishments that helped us uphold our mission, “to promote and support the teaching of agriculture and the role it plays in our lives.” The SDAITC Board is thankful to the volunteers who made every effort a success, including committee members, the San Diego County Farm Bureau, and the various facilities and their staff who graciously agreed to host our events. To our Donors whose generosity keep SDAITC’s programs active and impactful, we could not do this without you.

2025 proved to be another eventful year for SDAITC and we’re proud to share our impact with you! Our Annual Programs support agricultural education in K-12 schools, providing hands-on learning for students. Our Educational Collaborations nurture relationships between Board members and educators so that SDAITC can address academic needs including ag curriculum development and implementation in local schools. Networking with Community Partners raises awareness of our mission and helps us identify new resources, volunteers and donors. Fundraising opportunities, a crucial component of what we do, make way for the Garden Education Support Program and Teacher Resource Fair that never fails to engage new interest from the community.
